My Full Name is Andrew Alexander Oliva, but everyone just calls me "Andy". There won't be many things that i'll miss besides the people, of course. Many of them I've grown up with my whole life and I'm sure not a single one of us will enjoy the fact they may never see anyone again. However, I suppose its just another part of life, another path you need to take to reach where it is you're going. Some of us have great things that lie ahead and others may not, but we all know that we can look back and remember the times and the memories made and the friendships forged; never to be forgotten.

My Life

My life career I wish to be, A person to play the game of hockey, I might be a lawyer, I might be a pilot. I might strike the jackpot and maybe i'll buy it. I might be President and tell the whole world. I might be a gymnast, to run, jump, then swirl. I might play pro-football 'cause I like to blitz. In the off-season I'll study the fish. I'll race in Daytona, in number 3, And in the winner's circle is, you guessed it, it's me. I might be an architect, design my own house, Then I'll retire, and live like a mouse. I'll work on the helos, and fix them just right, So when there's a rescue, we won't have to pre-flight. I might be a 5-star General and lead you to war, I might be a teacher that won't be a bore. If for some reason, none of these are true, I'll say to myself "Don't give up there's a job for you." I'll go to college and get a degree, Meanwhile,
here I am standing, practicing ABC...

1

Unbeknownst to you, you are the prince's ball!

The Prince declares his love to Cinderella.

Mrs. Murphy:

Thank you for pushing us to strive for the best in bringing this charming and timeless fairy tale to life.

The Herald (Daniel Dobbins) delivers the thrilling news of the upcoming ball for the Prince.

2

The King (Jason Mellin) and his Queen (Torey Strahl) observe the ball as they are served champagne by the court's waiter (Jerome Mehrman).

Ten minutes ago

Guests at the ball excitedly await their turn to meet the Prince

5 Waltz for the Ball

Dancers (Carly Willmott, Christina Debendictis, Thuy Tran, Jenny Lee, Nolan Sylvan, Lauryn McGonagle, Samantha McMahon, Sara Rose, Lindsey McMorrow, Melinda Brennan, Jen Toombs, Danny Dobbins, David Killoil, Evan Eckstrom, Troy Cutler, Justin Runyon, Travis Slesinski, Lucas Trask, Chris Dietrich, and Josh Reilly) gracefully waltz for the King and Queen, while the stepsisters ogle the Prince, trying to catch his attention.

The lovestruck Nellie waltzes with her "wonderful guy," Emile.

< Cultured French planter, Emile De Becque (Jason Mellin), serenades the young Navy nurse, Nellie Forbush (Christina DeBenedictis).

> The sly souvenir dealer, Bloody Mary (Jen Toombs), pitches her products to a skeptical seabee (Timothy Beaton).

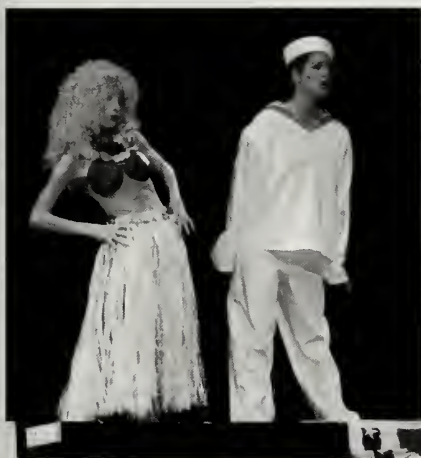

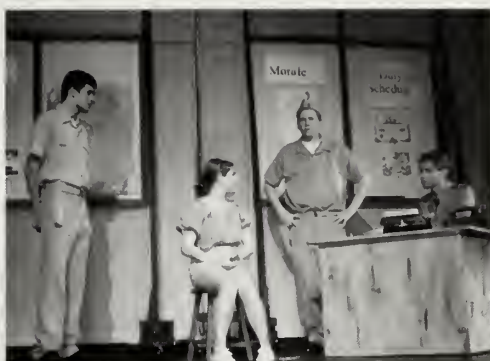

Nellie enlists the help of her fellow nurses in "washing that man outta her hair."

^ The seabees engage in an impromptu lunge with Bloody Mary.

> Nellie Forbush nervously takes part in an interrogation by her Navy Commanders (L to R: Justin Runyon, Casey Winner, & Henry Buck).

Nellie sings a comical ballad to the "voluptuous siren of the Coral Sea," Luther Billis.

> Luther Billis (Nolan Sylvain) and his fellow seabees (Josh Reilly and Steve Malone) lament their female-less plight.

> Emile's children, Ngana & Jerome (5th graders Haley Michienzi and Ben Brown) open the show with "Dites-Moi."

v Natives (Grace Davis, Abbey Chase, Mary Moran, & Megan Modic) deliver an ethereal rendition of "Bali Ha'i."

The enamored Lt. Joseph Cable (Casey Winner) professes his love to the beautiful native girl, Liat (Thuy Tran).

Student Council

Student Council works together to make our community better not only on a local scale but a global scale as well. They have been working hard this year and have sent two delegates per week to help the food pantry sort and distribute food. Stu-Co meets together on the school's handbook to make it more likeable and strives to have more community output than input. This year, our Student Council sent delegates to Deval Patrick's inauguration. This spring they are working on the Heifer Project to send farm animals to countries in need in hopes that they will be able to use the animals for economical and commercial purposes.

Yearbook Staff 2007

Co-Editors in Chief: Thuy Tran and Vera Pendergraft

Working on the yearbook this year has been quite an experience- exhausting, yes, but also rewarding. We've missed too many deadlines for us to count, but it hasn't always been like this. Early in the fall, the year looked bright. We had enthusiastic workers who diligently planned the layout of the yearbook. We don't know what happened next but suddenly these workers dropped like a sack of hot potatoes and disappeared into oblivion. It took a lot of effort, and constant bickering, and eating a lot of Ms. Dunn's food (trust us, it's not gourmet), but we managed to overcome indigestion to get through this...just kidding. Not for the serious stuff...We would like to thank several people- the parents and faculty members who came to our aid in our hour (many hours, actually) of need, (they provided us with candid, sports photos, and rosters), Jerome Mehrman for typing some senior bios, club photos, and other miscellaneous tasks, Jen Gilbert for typing bios and selling and producing ads, students of BHS who were willing to lend us their pictures to make these pages possible, and thank you Ms. Dunn for donating your time and classroom. Your abyss of knowledge has helped to fill in our void of yearbook education. We would also like to thank Lauren Lage-McAdams, for her photography. Our staff is looking forward to working with you next year. Good luck to the Class of 2007, may you find success in the paths you choose in your life.

Despite the diminution of our staff members, well....if you're reading this...we obviously finished the yearbook (albeit, with relief and satisfaction.)
